Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1,6,11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Rose (2464720).

Rose shows spreader bar 10a, pivoted hook 14, a body 13 mounted to a base 20 which is mounted to 10a. Also all things on the kite are indirectly connected to the kite user.

4. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Fricke (3088701).

Fricke shows hook 2 connected to base 1 and resilient bias 5 and blocker 8 the end of which is a “plate” that blocks its release and means 16 to connect to the spreader bar on the kite.

Also all things on the kite are indirectly connected to the kite user.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rose (2464720) in view of Ennis (2425309).

Ennis shows the details of spring biased hook 9 with the release mechanism 52,20,73. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the release mechanism of Ennis for that of figure 2 of Rose since it is an equivalent release hook. Also all things on the kite are indirectly connected to the kite user.

1. Applicant's arguments filed 5/24/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is noted that frame members on the kite are also called spreaders as shown in the new reference of Britt et al (2003/0042366) and the old reference of Kay (2484096). Starbuck shows a connector on a spreader and Gipson shows a pivoted hook on a kite user.

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
